Dear Terry,

About three o'clock on Saturday afternoon March 20, 93 we had a chimney fire in the attic of our home. It started the blown in insulation on fire and bur'nt through a ceiling joist. The smoke detector downstairs in the hallway went off and alerted us before things became to serious. With the early warning we were able to get the attic fire out with several extinguishers we had in the home. It it had happened in the middle of the night we feel confident the detectors would have warned us in plenty of time to get out.

We firmly believe every family should have the early warning of the heat and smoke detectors, so they too have the time to get out of their home. It can make a big difference.
